TOTAL SOLUTIONS

Larger clients sometimes request a custom-designed coaching and training experience that maps to their unique culture, goals, and processes.

We offer three tailored solutions, priced upon request.

1. We engage via an in-depth telephonic meeting. We learn your distinctive challenges and opportunities and then incorporate the knowledge into a customized webinar. Participants begin their coaching with a deeper understanding of how the course drives success in their particular business ecosystem.
2. Key Note Opening: Dr. George Watts or certified presenter kicks off your TLT program with a 45-minute inspiring presentation. The speech uses a fun, interactive component that deepens culture and illuminates the coaching course key points. The kick off is presented live or via satellite.
3. Leading or facilitating one to two day retreats for marketing and sales leaders — we recommend this be undertaken prior to the launch of the TLT program. The retreat is designed to energize and motivate people through the deepening of trust, communication, and strategic collaboration. We jointly plan your retreat agenda. Participants learn to improve their coaching skills using the TLT system.
